

The RSP GmbH company is an internationally active and a continuously growing company having around 180 employees to date. As the market leader in the field of fan suction technology, we have a high level of competence and many years of experience in the development and manufacture of mobile and stationary suction systems, as well as customer-specific solutions. We design and manufacture suction structures on 2, 3 and 4-axle chassis, as well as stationary suction systems.

Sales Representative / Sales Manager (m/w)

The employee shall have the following duties:

- Individual customer care of existing and new customers
- Acquisition of new customers and expansion of existing customer relationships
- Order processing from quotation to invoice
- Customer travel, market development, offer preparation
- Cooperation with other employees in the organisation, as well as participation in fairs in the target area of the company

Our requirements from you are:

- Successfully completed vocational training, preferably in the field of construction machinery
- Technical competencies
- Intercultural experience is an advantage; self-confidence and a good communication skills
- Willingness to travel (worldwide)
- Excellent English language skills (spoken and written)
- Proficiency in another foreign language is an advantage
- Truck driving licence Class C1 desirable
- Self-initiator, with creative commitment, decision-making abilities and assertiveness, teamwork skills, sociability and negotiating skills

What we offer you

A position with the best opportunities for development, encouraging independent working methods and offering a long-term perspective in a well-positioned SME.

We offer an attractive working environment and an appropriate remuneration, including a bonus program.

RSP GmbH

Contact person: Martina Voigt

Zum Silberstollen 10, 07318 Saalfeld/Saale

Phone: +49 (0) 36 71/57 21-246 / Fax: +49 (0) 36 71/57 21-240

mv@rsp-germany.com / www.rsp-germany.com